he was able to sit up in bed and look at picture-books, while the little rabbit cuddled close at his side md julia johnson discussed the reason for her vote saying that "hellip;we have very little information about this lower dose